FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Omnios Selected As 2007 Pacesetter by Accounting Technology Magazine for the Fourth Consecutive Year

BUFFALO GROVE, IL - January 4, 2008 - Omnios, a leading provider of business process and project management consulting services for mid-sized organizations, was recently named a 2007 Pacesetter by Accounting Technology Magazine for the fourth consecutive year.

According to Accounting Technology, Pacesetters distinguish themselves through their performance. Factors determining the Pacesetter selection include awards won by the organization, leadership, industry reputation, sales per employee and growth.

“It is remarkable to be recognized in the industry as a leading provider of quality services, products and knowledge but receiving this acknowledgement for the last four years is truly an honor,” said Mike Silver, partner, Omnios.

Omnios specializes in planning, designing and building streamlined and effective internal business systems that allow organizations to focus on their strategic objectives and run a successful business. Omnios works primarily with mid-sized, project-driven professional service firms; nonprofits; and holding companies that need to manage important organizational resources, such as staff time against specific projects to track revenue and billing.
